She was an amazing instructor. She incorporated situation she's gone threw and family dilemmas with us to help understand the material better and grasp it in an actual sence.

What are the strengths of this instructor?

She is likable and very knowledgeable in the classroom communicates information in a way that is easy to understand

She knows her subject very well. She is younger so it is easy to relate to her. She gives real life examples from her work in child psychology.

She knows her information

She makes sure they you understand the material and encourages discussion whether it be on black board or in class.

She knows about psychology, comes to class on time she explains the material well and shows us examples of what the text says

She is very knowledgeable on the subject she teaches. She has tons of first hand experiences with children, which make for interesting discussions.

She generally does seem to have a lot of knowledge in her field.

How could this instructor improve the course?

Honestly, I think she's an incredible instructor. The only thing I would say is to have more video's in class that would go along with the course, however, she did have them posted on black board for us to take a look at when we wanted.

Improve her assignments for classes, needs to be more talkative to students on their grades and what she expects from each person.

during discussions, maybe ask specific people questions about the material to get more discussions going. rather than just asking the whole class

Since the class covers so many subjects, to break it up, maybe she could have more guest speakers come into the class or have more videos. We deal with a lot on child abuse and just plain understanding our children.

Do more interactive work.

There were only 4 major grades. Two tests and two papers. I felt like for all the content of the course we could have had more grades.

She's fun and understands if you have any issues. She's always there for helping the students.

Very great instructor. She seemed very organized and had a easy to follow strict syllabus.

I really enjoyed this class. A lot of the information I learned will be valuable in my career choice.

What are the strengths of this instructor?

She has a good outline and course materials to work through to learn for this course. The assignments are not too hard, yet not too easy, and she seems to grade them with thought of the students thinking.

I really liked that she had online chats in real time. I found that really helpful.

Seemed very "on top of things" and was there to help with questions and concerns in a timely manner.

She is helpful and typically tries to respond to any questions or feedback in a timely manner. She's very knowledgeable on the material. She seems easy going and is easy to work with.

How could this instructor improve the course?

She responded to most of my e-mails within 48 hours, but not always.

That she is very knowledgeable about the subject and is able to help you out in anything that you need help with.

How could this instructor improve the course?

Post an announcement even when there is no assignment for that week, just to let us know there is no announcement. And remind us more when large projects are due because a lot of students have more than one online class. For example, I have four.
